

Transport Rule

Park Once Neon Playbook

One night in AC should not become a parking war.

The rule

■■ Park once. That is the law.

Once you check in / park at AC, the car is done. The night uses walking, Jitney, Uber, casino corridors, and common sense.

■ Walk

Use walking for close casino/boardwalk moves.

■ Jitney

Good for short AC hops when feet or weather argue back.

■ Uber

Use it if the move is annoying, late, or nobody wants to navigate.

■ No re-parking

Do not turn one night into a “find parking again” nightmare.

Brian-friendly translation

Get there, park, become a pedestrian with options. That is how AC stays fun instead of becoming homework.
